FRIENDS of the THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY

From TCPL Director Sara Slymon

We've had an amazing year at the Thomas Crane Public Library! I was happy to celebrate my one year anniversary in June, and am so grateful to be here serving this vibrant community.

Summer reading was a runaway success this year, with thousands of participants reading, crafting, and winning prizes. The theme was "Find Your Voice," which encouraged children to learn about self-expression and agency. We had multiple performers at all locations and some exciting outdoor activities.

The Friends Book Store moved to the lobby of the main library at the beginning of September. The new space is bright and beautiful with modern graphic designs on the glass doors and a theme of silver and white inside. In an attempt to make the store more accessible to folks on weekdays and evenings, there will be additional hours announced soon. Please stop in to shop, or just to look around. Our friend Kermit the Frog moved with us to the Children's Nook.

Coming soon, we will have books available for purchase in the atrium whenever the library is open, through an honor system. More to come!

A brand new Teen Room opened in September. The room is the first of its kind at the Main Library where we have had many different teen "spaces," but never a dedicated room. Our Teen Librarian runs a Teen Advisory Board (TAB) who consulted on what the teens wanted for the room. They asked for comfortable seating, plants, twinkle lights, and desktop computers. Through the generous sponsorship of the Library Foundation, we were able to provide all of those things! The room opened on the first day of school, and the teens were thrilled! We have had between 30 and 40 teens after school every day. The teen librarian has been able to offer lots of amazing active and passive programs, all of which have been well attended, and all of which were generously funded by the Friends of the Library, who doubled the teen programming budget this year.

Coming soon, we will be launching a Library of Things. The concept behind a Library of Things is to provide the community with items that they might want to try out before investing in them, or the opportunity to access items that someone might only need once. For example, if a child wants an Elmo cake one year, but a Dora cake the next year, you can borrow the cake pan you need, use it once, and return it! We will be offering tools, a stand mixer, kettle bells, a karaoke machine, pickleball paddles, sewing machines, typewriters, and many more fun items.

Happy Autumn!

Letter from President Catherine Lynde

I hope you've noticed the new location of the Friends Bookstore in the library atrium. It's a lovely, warm and inviting space. We're very excited to have a more visible space with more foot traffic. We had a ribbon cutting and grand opening on September 5th; Mayor Koch, Senator Keenan, and one hundred other folks attended. It was a joyous occasion – with puppets and refreshments too.

In hopes that we will be able to expand the bookstore hours, the Friends called for additional volunteers. We are delighted that several dozen responded! We are now in the process of figuring out what those new hours are going to be, and training these new recruits. By the time you get this newsletter, we should be open additional hours beyond the current Thursday 6:00-8:00 pm and Saturday 9:30 am to 3:30 pm hours.

The Friends annual membership renewal drive starts in November. Please look for an email or letter from us asking you to renew your membership. As you know, your contribution supports important community programs such as music, films, subsidized museum passes, lectures and activities for all ages in all the branches.

We have several options for renewal:

- ◇ Visit thomascranelibrary.org/friends; choose your membership from the drop down menu and click "Join Now".
- ◇ Print a membership form and mail a check, if you prefer.
- ◇ Visit our Facebook page, facebook.com/FriendsTCPL, where you'll be able to make a donation to the Friends from a button at the top of the page.
- ◇ Create a Facebook fundraiser benefiting the Friends for your birthday (or really anytime!).

The Friends also recently welcomed two new Executive Board members:

Jacqueline (Jackie) Rector is from St. Louis, MO. She works as an Archivist for the Adams National Historical Park. Prior to that, Jackie was a Physical Anthropologist/Archivist for the Army Corps of Engineers for seven years. She has a Masters in Forensic/Physical Anthropology and is excited to join us in supporting our community library.

Ken Shurtluff is a Quincy kid who ended up owning music stores in the Cleveland and Pittsburgh areas. He now is a regional sales representative for two independent music distribution companies. In his spare time, Ken referees volleyball games. He joins the Board after working at the Friends bookstore as a media specialist for five years.

TCPL Garden Notes

A Brief History of Beloved Lavender Plants Our most frequently asked question this summer was, "What happened to the beautiful lavender plants that were near the front doors to the Atrium and the Children's Room?" Despite the best efforts of Mimi Balsamo and myself over the summer to encourage them, they failed fast and had to be removed in August. Like most beloved friends who have passed, their absence is noted.

The lavender plants have a long history, beginning in Winter 2012, when the Department of Public Works announced that grant money would be made available for civic beautification by Quincy residents who wished to improve city properties in their neighborhoods. I had watched with dismay as the flower beds at the new wing of the TCPL had fallen into a sad state of neglect, so I submitted an application with a maintenance plan that brought together three different groups: the Friends, the Wollaston Garden Club, and Broad Meadows Middle School students from Operation Days' Work.

We received a grant of $500 in the form of a Home Depot gift card and three partners also chipped in approximately $1,000. With such generous support, we not only redesigned the Peace Garden and planted the Peace Pole, but also had money to expand the project to include the long extension of the Atrium gardens in front of the Coletti wing. In 2013, we received another DPW grant to fill in the bed in front of the Atrium. The English lavender plants (Lavandula "Hidcote") that we planted in 2012 were very successful, so we planned to have more of the same. In the first few years, the new plants kept growing and growing to be almost twice the size of the originals. We determined that our newer plants were actually Lavandula "Grosso," plants having a typical lifespan of 10 years, while English lavender lives for 10-15 years.

Longtime patrons know that our Lavandula "Grossos" have been truly spectacular! Each summer, we harvest the flowers and the dried buds fill sachets sewn by Wollaston Garden Club members. These are sold as gift items at the Wollaston Garden Club's Winter Greens Sale in December and the proceeds are then used for civic beautification around the City.

By the Summer of 2023, our Lavandula "Grosso" plants were 11 years old and had suffered a tough year. The drought of 2022 extended into the winter of 2023, which had much below average snowfall. Toss in the brutal February cold snap (-14 degrees F!) and it is not a wonder that the plants suffered badly. We managed a small harvest this year before we uprooted the plants.

What made their passing especially sad was that they were showstoppers in 2020 and 2021 when the flower stalks grew to be almost 48 inches tall. I showed up one Thursday and they had grown so much in one week that I burst out laughing! I believe that the Covid lockdown gave them the atmospheric conditions to grow massively. The decrease in air pollution in the Spring of 2020 was well documented and may have resulted in cleaner rainfall.

The Friends wish to thank the Wollaston Garden Club for their donation in August of new Lavandula "Grosso" plants that were purchased from the Cape Cod Lavender Farm in Harwich. They look small now but let's be patient. We will take great care to winter them over with a good layer of mulch. Let's hope we have healthy plants that will thrive in their special spot. We are at the start of a new adventure.
